TRAP SHOOTING.

Elliot Breaks the World's Record at Fifty Yards.

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 12.—The American field champion, J. A. Elliott, broke the world's record of trap shooting at fifty yards boundary in the second match of the series with Dr. W. F. Carver to-day.
Elliott made a clean score of 100 killed, which is one more than the best record heretofore made, and which was held by Elliott. Carver's score of 99 equals the best previous record, and the match itself stands without equal in trap shooting circles.

Lost in Rainy Lake.

RAT PORTAGE, Oct. 12.—News has just reached here that the steamboat Highland Maid has been wrecked at Long Sault rapids, Rainy lake. The mails, passengers and crew were saved. William Woods, the purser, was badly injured. The boat and cargo are a total loss. The cause of the accident was low water and the dangerous rapids full of rocks. This is the second vessel lost this season.

The Essex Canal.

OTTAWA, Oct. 12.—The final preliminary survey for the Essex canal from Lake Erie

$12,000 were taken out by four men in the JAPANESE REJOINDER.

Minister Kurimo Denies the Alleged Chinese Version of the Situation.

China's Suzerainty in Korea Always Resisted by the Japanese Government.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—Inquiries made at the Japanese legation with reference to the view taken by officials of the letter of Mr. Chang Yen Hoon, published yesterday and giving China's version of the events which led to the present war, elicited the following statement:

"In the opinion of the Japanese minister the resume which the letter purports to give is both incomplete and inaccurate. It proceeds upon the hypothesis that Korea is tributary to China, which Japan has never admitted and does not now admit to be a fact.
Mr. Kurimo does not believe that the records of the State department will support
Mr. Chang's assertion that the U. S. conceded that Korea is tributary to China and cannot enter into treaty relations with foreign powers without China's consent."

To him mind the action of the United States in concluding an independent treaty with Korea and in receiving a Korean minister are direct proofs to the contrary. Mr.
Chang makes the broad general statement that Japan has violated treaty obligations.
He probably refers to the dispatch of Japanese troops to Korea. Under the terms of the Tientsin convention between Japan and China, the right of the former to send troops to Korea is explicitly conceded. China was the first to send troops and then Japanese troops were sent for the protection of her subjects and the interests which previously suffered grievous injury during similar disturbances.

There was never the slightest intention that these troops should permanently occupy Korean territory, as Mr. Chang alleges, and of this fact the Chinese government had official knowledge, through the solemn assurance of the Japanese government long before there was an open rupture. The sole object of Japan was to effect in Korea a reform of those abuses which had caused so many complications and which had on several occasions seriously imperilled Japanese lives and property. In all the negotiations preceding hostilities the Japanese government showed itself willing to concede every just and reasonable demand made on behalf of China, but the Chinese government insisted upon impossible conditions, and thereby directly precipitated the war.

QUARANTINE, N. Y., Oct. 12.—Prince Yamashina of Japan, accompanied by two of his suite, arrived by the steamer Augusta Victoria. When interviewed at Quarantine he seemed eager to learn the latest news from the seat of war and was highly elated to learn of the successes of the Japanese army and the intended march on Peking. He had no doubts as to the final success of Japan in her war with China. When asked as to what he thought of the probabilities of the intervention of other powers to stop the war, he hesitated and did not seem to care to answer the question, but stated, however, that he did not think the other powers would interfere in the struggle. The Prince expected to meet the Japanese consul on his arrival. He will remain in town for a few days and will probably visit Washington before proceeding to San Francisco, where he will take the steamer for Japan.

U. S. STAMP ROBBERIES.

Discovery of Great Deficiencies in the Government Printing Office.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—The stamp robbery at the bureau of engraving and printing turns out to be much larger than at first suspected. Instead of one package containing 50,000 two-cent stamps, it is now believed that over 200,000 and possibly 250,000 stamps of various denominations are missing. The stealing has been going on for 30 days and seem to have been the result of a plot of William B. Smith, formerly of Plainfield, N. J., and George W. Longstreet, who were employed in the stamp department of the bureau of engraving and printing. They are under arrest. To-day Smith made a proposition to the police authorities to turn State's evidence and make a full confession if they would sign a paper guaranteeing him protection. He said he would implicate government employees much higher than himself.

IMPERIAL FEDERATION.

Propaganda to Be Prosecuted
Throughout the United Kingdom and Colonies.

The Scheme Began Wrong, Continued
Wrong, and Must Be Changed.

LONDON, Oct. 12.—The Daily News comments to-day on the prospectus of a scheme for promoting Imperial Federation. The scheme, which was formulated by a body of public men headed by Sir John Seely, includes a proposal that courses of lectures on the expediency of Imperial Federation be delivered in all the large towns of the United Kingdom and the colonies. "This is an excellent plan," says the News, "and appeals to all classes. Many of the lectures will be especially designed for workmen's clubs. As yet no detailed plan of federation has been prepared, but such a one would be formulated by degrees after full discussion. The promoters regard certain principles as necessary to the bond of union, primarily the continuance of our maritime supremacy as the mainstay of our commerce." After remarking that the new scheme means the resumption of the labors of the Imperial League, the News continues:

"The latter began at the wrong end, namely, with men of prominence leading and excluding the masses. It was soon captured by private interests, especially the reciprocists. Sir Charles Tupper struck the league a fatal blow when he wrote that its main purpose was to levy large contributions on the colonies to support the mother country's army and navy. This was not true, and Sir Charles afterwards admitted his error, but the mischief was done. Imperial unity can never emanate from the learned political doctors.
It must derive its first impulse from the sentiments and aspirations of the whole people;
we may almost say the whole race."

"Mr. Carnegie's utterance of a larger hope should not be forgotten. The people must wish for unity before unity can be anything more than a mere transaction in statecraft. If the promoters succeed in firing the whole working class with enthusiasm, the whole scheme will be soon in the domain of practical politics. It is a crusade of love and trust and race pride that is to be preached. Now a series of political alliances will be negotiated. As it is there is something disheartening in the aloofness of our great imperial masses from one another, arising from their ignorance of one another's personality, tastes, pursuits and habit of thought. To thousands of us Canada and Australia and the Cape are merely places on the map, associated with the conception of high wages and cheap living. Any feeling of real brotherhood and common origin, common destinies and a great patrimony of rights and duties is unknown. We must change all that."

THE AMERICA'S CUP.

Earl Dunraven to Build Another Vessel to Compete for Its Possession.

LONDON, Oct. 12.—The Field will say tomorrow that Lord Dunraven has decided to build a challenger for the America's cup. It is to be a cutter of about the Britannia's size, perhaps rather longer. The Field thinks that under the circumstances this is the wisest decision. It is understood that Lord Dunraven has not yet communicated with the New York Yacht Club, but the conditions observed in 1893 will probably be maintained.

LORDS AND COMMONS.

Sir George Trevelyan Says It Is Impossible to Do Business Without Reforming the Peers.

LONDON, Oct. 12.—Sir George Trevelyan, Secretary for Scotland, addressed the Liberals of Glasgow this evening. He said the last parliamentary session proved that the country would be better off without a House of Lords. The majority of Peers against popular measures was so overwhelming that there was no prospect of the Liberals carrying out the business before the upper house had been reformed. The hostility between the houses had become open and permanent.

FOR BRIBERY AND CORRUPTION.

Sixteen Whitewayite Members Unseated in Newfoundland.

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., Oct. 12.—The trial of Mr. Keating, Whitewayite member of the legislature for the St. George's district, was concluded to-day, Justice Little unseating and disqualifying him for bribery and corrupt practices. This makes the sixteenth Whitewayite unseated for these offences.
There is one more trial pending on the same charges.

MINING MATTERS.

Remarkable Showing on the Ruecan
—New Denver's Banking Prospects.

Cariboo Creek Development — Shipments of Ore—A High Opinion of the Slocan.

(From the Slocan Times.)

J. F. Bailey, a mining engineer from New York, who visited the Hamilton group of claims on Howson creek, also the Alpha mine and the Reid and Robertson group, took away with him an extraordinarily high opinion of the Slocan.

C. Sweeney, general manager of the Bank of Montreal, accompanied by A. B. Buchanan, was in New Denver on Monday. It is only a question now whether a branch of the bank will be opened in New Denver now or in the spring.

The machinery for the Slocan Milling Company's concentrator has been shipped from Chicago. The timber for the mill is ready for shipment from Nakusp.

The Utica Marie, at Paddy's Peak, has two tunnels driven in, one 40 feet and the other 20 feet. At the lower tunnel they have four feet of galena and carbonates. Ed. Burns is foreman. Ore will not be shipped until spring. A trail six miles long has been built in from Sproules.

The Ivanhoe mine, with Captain Donnelly as superintendent and George Stafford shift boss, has a tunnel 40 feet. They have not yet struck the lead, but expect to do so at about 80 feet. Frank Provost has just finished building the cabins and ore house.

To judge from the samples lately brought in from Cariboo and Mineral creeks, on Arrow lakes, a second and greater Trail Creek has been discovered, which will add greatly to the wealth and resources of West Kootenay.

A most remarkable sight on the Ruecan is the outcrop of solid ore on the surface. The galena is 8 feet 8 inches wide, and for that distance is solid and clean. The ledge has been traced for a few hundred feet and prospect holes dug on it. It shows up clean ore all the way, at the widest place about twelve inches. Part of it is clean galena mixed with seams of oxidized ore, which assays 900 ounces to the ton. The clean galena is said to average $50 a sack. There is some of the prettiest looking ruby silver ore on the ground that was ever seen. It is not by any means beyond the capacity of the Ruecan to ship at least 600 tons of ore this winter, and the owners are preparing to ship all they can. The Ruecan has the makings of a great mine in it. The upper tunnel is in 353½ feet. There has been continuous ore in this tunnel for 330 feet of its entire length. There is a raise from this tunnel of 65 feet, and 100 feet of the vein in length by 24 feet in height was stopped out last winter, and resulted in the shipment of about 80 tons of clean ore. In sinking, a very fine showing of ore was struck in the winz.

J. C. Wagner, locator of the Wagner group, reports a very favorable showing as the result of development work on his own group of claims. He has about five feet of ore on the Duncan and about four feet on the Francis Jewel.

(From the Nakusp Ledger.)

Nine more locations have been taken up in the Cariboo Creek country.

About thirty-three claims will work and ship ore in the Slocan this winter. Times promise to be more prosperous there than in any other mining section of the Northwest. The output will probably reach 17,000 tons by next spring. The town of Three Forks is building up very fast and anticipates a large amount of business. The output of the mines this winter will be more than double the entire output of the Slocan up to date. The Grady group on Four-Mile creek is shipping 40 tons of ore a day to the railroad at Roseberry. This ore goes to Omaha via the C. P. R. It is reported to run about 125 ounces of silver to the ton and about 70 per cent. lead. The Fisher Maldon is also getting ready to ship a lot of high grade dry ore.

A wagon road is being built from Three Forks to the Idaho basin. This will serve the Idaho, Alamo, St. John, Cumberland, Democrat, Young Dominion, Queen Bees and other mines. The output of this one basin this winter should be not less than 3,000 tons. The Montana Chief will ship probably 700 tons. Finch & Campbell are building a trail to and erecting winter quarters at the Wonderful and will ship 500 tons. On the south fork of Sandon creek the Ruth, which has already shipped one carload, and the Willis group, owned by Moore, Humphreys & Blackaller, on which thirty men are at work will also be heavy shippers.

The Slocan Star will commence shipping when the snow comes, and already 850 tons of ore from the mine are stored at Three Forks. More than 1,000 tons will be taken out of the Star this winter. On the Noble Five group they are mining and sacking now and will probably ship 2,000 tons. The Deadman is being opened up and will make big shipments, as also the Rico, which should be good for 1,000 tons or so. The Bluebird has been worked all summer and will have from 500 to 700 tons to ship. S. S. Bayley at the Payne will probably ship from 300 to 500 tons. The Idaho No. 2 and Danderberg will make good-sized shipments like their neighbors. The McDonald Bros. are in shape from 500 to 700 tons, and the Dardanelles and other mines in that vicinity will be big producers.

Contracts are being let to various packers and teamsters to bring ore to the Forks. The rates of hauling are low in many cases, some of the contractors not being familiar with the packing of ore down steep mountain trails filled with many feet of snow.

THE COAL CITY.

Fire Limit By-Law Discussed—Exhibition at Cedar Hill—Postmaster at Northfield.

NANAIMO, Oct. 12.—(Special)—Ald. Cocking's fire limit by-law was discussed at a special meeting of the city council last evening. The by-law was amended considerably, but no definite action was taken with regard to it. Some of the aldermen favor a clause permitting the erection of frame buildings within the limit provided a space of ten feet be left on either side.

A telephone has been installed in the fire hall. It is expected that the new hall will be in working order next week.

W. A. Young, manager of the Northfield branch of the Hamilton Powder Works, left today for Southern California, where he will spend six weeks recuperating from the effects of his recent severe illness.

A flower, fruit and vegetable show will be held to-morrow in the Cedar district Institute hall, which promises to be a very successful affair.

Mrs. J. K. McManus has been appointed postmistress at Northfield.

THE WESTMINSTER FAIR.

Another Bright and Successful Day at the Show—Association Officers Elected.

NEW WESTMINSTER, Oct. 12.—(Special)—To-day was another bright and successful day at the fair. The sports went off with a vim and the attendance was good. The following officers have been elected by the agricultural society for the ensuing year: President, T. J. Trapp, Westminster; vice-presidents, G. A. Perrin, Victoria, and John Kirkland, Ladner's; treasurer, G. D. Brimmer; secretary, A. B. Mackenzie, Westminster.

In mentioning the exhibits yesterday it was stated that Morris obtained the diploma for biscuits and confectionery. The word confectionery should have been omitted, Ramsay & Co., of Vancouver, having the only exhibit of confectionery, which received a deserved diploma and much verbal praise.

A FIGHT IN THE SWAMP

Results in a Second Stabbing Affray at New Westminster.

NEW WESTMINSTER, Oct. 12.—(Special)—A number of Italians were fighting in the swamp last night, and one of them was stabbed, though not very seriously. They were all arrested. The affair was the result of a quarrel between two men named Petlar and Pegelsider over a klotchman named Kitty. All hands will appear for trial Saturday.

COMOX AGRICULTURAL SHOW.

An Excellent Exhibition—Some of the Prizes Gained by the Northern Farmers.

NANAIMO, Oct. 12.—(Special)—The second annual exhibition under the auspices of the Comox Agricultural Association was held at that place on Thursday, and proved very successful. The exhibition took place in the association's new building and grounds. The display of cattle, horses, sheep, etc., was really very creditable. In field produce, fruits and garden stock also a good showing was made. W. Lewis won Joseph Hunter's gold medal for the best all-round horse. J. Miller carried off A. Haslam's silver medal for the best display of vegetable. Robert Grant secured five prizes for horses.

THE CASE REMANDED.

Grace "Irvine" Appears in Court But Is Remanded to Await Developments.

NEW WESTMINSTER, Oct. 12.—(Special)—Grace "Irvine," charged with stabbing F. G. Turner on Tuesday night last, came up for a preliminary hearing to-day, but was remanded to await developments in Turner's illness. Turner is reported somewhat better to-night, and if he passes through to-morrow his life may be saved.

MARINE MOVEMENTS.

The "City of Seattle" Spoken of as a Possible Addition to China's Fleet.

Annual Excursion by the "Islander" to the North—Vancouver Talks Opposition.

It is reported on the Seattle water front that Wa Chong, a Chinese merchant of Seattle, has been trying to purchase the steamer City of Seattle, of the Puget Sound & Alaska Steamship Company, for some time past, for the purpose of sending her to China to be used to transport Chinese troops to Korea. It is said that the only thing in the way of the transfer of the boat is the price asked, which Wa Chong believes to be too high. Negotiations have been in progress for three weeks. Some doubt whether the City of Seattle could be taken across the ocean, saying that she could not stand the voyage. Wa Chong is said to be the agent of a Chinese firm in the employ of the Chinese government.

THE "ISLANDER'S" NORTHERN EXCURSION.

The C.P.N. Co. advertise in to-day's issue a trip to Rivers Inlet on Sunday night by the steamer Islander at the very low rate of $10. Already a number of Victorians have secured accommodation for the trip. A trip of 650 miles through some of the most beautiful scenery of the Northern coast is an ideal one for the tired business man who has only a few days to spare for recreation. The fare, $10, includes meals and berths for the entire trip. About a day will be spent at Rivers Inlet, giving ample opportunity to visit the many points of interest in the vicinity.

THE "TACOMA'S" CARGO.

The Northern Pacific liner Tacoma left Yokohama for this port on Sunday last. She has a full cargo, including 835 tons for Portland and the Sound, 950 bales of silk for New York, and 200 tons of general merchandise for this city. There are 50 steerage passengers aboard, 25 of whom are for Victoria.

MARINE NOTES.

The Sailors' Union in San Francisco now demand that the wages of seamen on coast vessels be increased from $25 to $30 per month. The demands are causing ship owners considerable trouble and many vessels are consequently tied up, unable to get crews.

The sealing schooners Columbia and Deahx, of Seattle, have arrived home from Behring Sea, the former with a catch of 404 skins and the latter with 1,020 skins. The schooners left Seattle on June 18.

Bark Corryvechan came around to the outer wharf from Equilmalt yesterday and to-day stevedores Cates & McDermott will commence loading her salmon cargo.

The schooner Mischief has been hauled out on the Star ways for repairs. While on the blocks she will receive a new mast and will be recaulked.

The Quadra has gone to Prevost Island to do some work there about the lighthouse.

Steamer Maude came in from Nanaimo yesterday with coal cargo.

Only the Scars Remain.

"Among the many testimonials which I see in regard to certain medicines performing cures, cleansing the blood, etc.," writes HENRY HUDSON, of the James Smith Woolen Machinery Co., Philadelphia, Pa., "none impress me more than my own case. Twenty years ago, at the age of 18 years, I had swellings come on my legs, which broke and became running sores. Our family physician could do me no good, and it was feared that the bones would be affected. At last, my good old mother urged me to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I took three bottles, the sores healed, and I have not been troubled since. Only the scars remain, and the memory of the past, to remind me of the good Ayer's Sarsaparilla has done me. I now weigh two hundred and twenty pounds, and am in the best of health. I have been on the road for the past twelve years, have noticed Ayer's Sarsaparilla advertised in all parts of the United States, and always take pleasure in telling what good it did for me."

For the cure of all diseases originating in impure blood, the best remedy is

"HYDE FARM"

SHAWNIGAN DISTRICT

IS A MAGNIFICENT PROPERTY, containing 484 acres, suitable for mixed farming. A large portion of the Farm has formerly been cropped. There are large portions of it that are suitable for Grazing and Dairying Purposes. Now that Hops are likely to become one of B. C.'s profitable crops, a couple of hundred acres of Hyde Farm could be utilized for this purpose. The Farm is supplied with an abundance of water the year round, and water for power can be secured from the falls of the Koksilah River, which stream is the boundary line of the property on one side. Brick Clay, Lime Rock and Bog Iron Ore exist on the Farm, with the prospect of Coal also being discovered. There is plenty of Timber for all purposes, some of it of a merchantable character.

"HYDE FARM"

Is a short distance from the E. & N. Railway Line at either end of the property, and the Victoria and Nanaimo Wagon Road passes through it, therefore it is specially well located for shipping purposes. Excellent Shooting and Fishing is to be had on the property and in the Koksilah River. Deer, Grouse, Duck and Geese abound. In fact Hyde Farm is well located for all practical and pleasureable purposes, and is a chance not often met with for a man of moderate means to secure a small estate, which is sure to become extremely valuable, as the development of the Island progresses. In the meantime its utilization for Mixed Farming or Cattle Raising Purposes would bring in a fair income.

Infernal Machine in Front of a Staffordshire Bank—Anglo-Chilian Claims.

Gladstone's Subscription to the Irish Party Accepted—Customs Returns in Chili.

LONDON, Oct. 12.—The capital of the state of Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, has been changed from Niteroy to Petropolis.

At the request of President-elect Moraes, of Brazil, President Pileoto will settle all differences with Portugal before he retires. The Argentine government has proclaimed October 12, the anniversary of the discovery of America, a public holiday. There will be a big naval review on that day.

Brazilian Admiral Maunder has been appointed to preside over the court which was called to inquire into the conduct of Admirals Mello and Gama in the late revolt. An infernal machine with a lighted fuse attached was found to-day in front of the bank in Walsall, county of Stafford, England. It was fortunately discovered in time to prevent an explosion. It contained gunpowder, bullets and chloride of potash.

The Anglo-Chilian claims tribunal will meet October 20 to settle claims arising from the last revolution. The British minister has already filed claims amounting to £40,000.

The customs returns of the Republic of Chili for September show a gain over September, 1893, in every district. The nitrate sale to September 15 comprises thirty-one works and twelve tracts of ground.

Subscriptions from Englishmen to the Irish parliamentary party have been returned with a letter of explanation and thanks. Right Hon. W. E. Gladstone's check for $100 has been accepted, however, as he is no longer a minister.

Juan Coja, one of the most desperate bandit chiefs of Mexico, has been captured in the city of Mazatlan. Coja has kept the country districts on the Pacific coast in constant terror for fifteen years. The bandit will probably be shot without the formality of a trial.

A dispatch from Lourenço Marquez, Delagoa bay, says the Portuguese there are hemmed in by 30,000 native Kafir. The town is strongly barricaded. The natives burned many houses in the suburbs yesterday.

Prince and Princess Bismarck are both ill. Paris newspapers contain an interview with England's secretary of war, Bannerman, in which he says war between France and England is impossible. He declared that Egypt would be vacated by the English the moment Egypt was strong enough to manage its own affairs.

After his audience with the Pope, Senor Castelar expressed his admiration of the sound common sense of His Holiness, his broad views and insight into human affairs. He said that the Pope could do much to promote international peace. Premier Crispi called upon Senor Castelar.

CLEVELAND AND HILL.

The President Urged to Endorse the Candidature for the Governorship of the New York Senator.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—If the President were to return to Washington and consult his cabinet as to what the administration attitude towards the New York campaign should be, he would discover at least two secretaries who believe that he ought to write a letter endorsing the regular ticket headed by Senator Hill. Neither secretary has met Hill except on the most formal occasions, and their sentiments are in no wise influenced by personal feelings towards the senator. Hill as a presidential candidate has been vigorously opposed by both, and their is no likelihood of their ever agreeing to his nomination. Both secretaries share the conviction that defeat in New York cannot fail to reflect on the administration and to seriously jeopardize party success in the future. But President Cleveland has not written to a single member of the cabinet with the possible exception of Secretary Lamont, and has not given any advice.

Colonel Lamont insists that he has received no word from Gray Gables, but his movements during the last three days would indicate that he has not been kept wholly in the dark as to the President's views. It is no secret that Mr. Lamont does not believe that Senator Hill would be elected and it is understood that he has talked in a discouraging strain with several Democratic leaders. He is not using any of his influence to promote the success of the ticket. The politicians have not entirely despaired of securing a letter of endorsement from the President. Were it not for the fact that the leaders hesitate to break in on Mr. Cleveland's vacation there is no doubt that several prominent Democrats would have made a trip to Buzzard's bay before this to urge the President to come out in support of the New York ticket.

New York, Oct. 12.—Though the campaign has not fairly opened, politicians with sporting proclivities and members of the gambling fraternity have sized up the situation and are posting odds on their favorites. Mr. Phil Dwyer was approached yesterday by an individual who offered to bet $2,000 to $1,000 that Morton would beat Hill. Col. Bill Brown offered to bet $5,000 even that Straus would be elected mayor. At the time he found no takers, but a Western politician bet him $500 even that Goff would be elected recorder. As the book now stands large odds are offered on Morton, but Straus has the advantage in the local contest.

INTERESTING TO SPIRITUALISTS.

Declaration of Principles of the National Association—A Spirit Picture.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—The convention of the National Spiritualists' Association came to an end yesterday. The report of the committee on resolutions, reiterating the declaration of principles adopted at Chicago in 1893, which declared the power of communication between spirits and those in the flesh, and a belief in the continued intellectual improvement of the spirit mind after departure from the body, denying the charges that the National Association was injuring other spiritualistic organizations, and rebuking certain railroads for refusing to recognize spiritualists in matters relating to transportation, was adopted.

AMERPEEN, Oct. 12.—The people of Elma, a bustling, lively town in the upper part of Chehalis county, are mystified over a photograph. On Tuesday afternoon Major Rogers and wife entered the gallery of H. H. Merriweather of that place and had their picture taken. On removing the first plate after being exposed the artist noticed that the plate appeared to be spoiled, and asked the major to sit again, as the one just taken was a failure. Artist Merriweather picked up the spoiled plate and placed it in the bath, and took the second picture, getting a very good likeness of the old major and his bride, as they have been married less than five months and are each over 50 years of age.

Mrs. Rogers next morning called to see the proof of the picture and expressed a desire to see the first plate. Imagine Merriweather's surprise on holding it up to the light to see a third figure, that of a man, standing between the Major and Mrs. Rogers. The lady went into hysterics at once, pronouncing the picture to be an exact likeness of her first husband, and begging the photographer to say nothing about it, as it would scare the Major to death. The matter leaked out, however, and soon spread over the town, and nearly every one visited the gallery to see the picture from the spirit land. Mrs. Rogers is from the East and is said to be a materializing medium. The photographer claims the plate was taken from a new box that had never been opened before.

REPORTS AND CONTRADICTIONS

China Said to Be Anxious for Peace—The Beginning of a Great War.

Japanese Enthusiasm—Every Subject Fit for Service Ready to Go to the Front.

LONDON, Oct. 12.—A Shanghai dispatch says a rumor is in circulation there that China has sought to patch up peace with Japan by acknowledging an indemnity equal to the war expenditures of that country.

A Tokio dispatch says Korea being cleared of the Chinese, an opportunity has arrived for Japan to undertake the thorough internal reform of the government of the country. For this purpose the Japanese minister of the interior will proceed at once to Korea. Advices from Nankin report the outbreak of the Kolaihuw society fifty miles from Hankow. All is quiet at Wuchang, but foreigners are not allowed to remain there.

A dispatch to the Pall Mall Gazette from Yokohama says: "Otori Keisuke, the Japanese soldier and diplomat, has been recalled owing to his failure to effect Japanese reforms in Korea. Count Inouye, the Japanese minister of the interior, will shortly proceed to Korea."

The Pall Mall Gazette publishes an interview with a leading Chinese official in London, in which he says with the exception of the naval battle at Yalu not a serious blow has been struck at China. This, he said, was merely the beginning of a great war. He denied that the battle at Ping Yang was a crushing defeat for the Chinese. When hostilities are renewed on a large scale he declares that China will produce an ample number of warships.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Oct. 12.—Humphrey P. Kendrick, a prominent merchant of this city, returned this morning from a four months' business trip to Japan. He escaped the interviewers at San Francisco. He talked reluctantly about the war. He thinks the conflict disastrous from a commercial point of view, and thinks even if the Japanese should be victorious it will take years to recoup the losses. At Yokohama, Tokio, Kobe, Osaka, the old capital, and throughout the empire, Kendrick says, he never saw anything like the enthusiasm displayed. This is added to by the action of the Mikado in going before the people uncovered and in personally directing the movements of the troops. When the Emperor went to the front at Hiroshima the wildest enthusiasm was displayed. In going through Tokio the population turned out en masse. So far there is little doubt that the training of the Japs will result in their being victorious.

Every subject fit for service has volunteered. The government have not found it necessary to enlist them and the dragoons, or two swordsmen, as the fighting contingent is called, have proved able to cope with the Chinese. The story of harbors being filled with torpedoes is a ruse of the Japanese pure and simple. There is not a single torpedo in the inland sea. The only danger in travelling in the Orient now is in taking passage on a native vessel. Ships under foreign flags are safe.

THE BRITISH FARMER.

The advocates of free trade in Canada say very little indeed about the condition to which free trade has reduced the British farmer. They know that the free importation of foodstuffs of all kinds into Great Britain has done very much to injure the British farmer and to impoverish the land owner. This state of things is admitted and deplored, not by the advocates of protection and fair trade alone, but by the newspapers and the men who are the strongest believers in free trade.

Taking up by chance a copy of the London Daily Telegraph of the 26th September, we see in it an article on the debate on the question "Whether or not it was proper and possible to render thanks to Heaven for the recent harvest," containing some facts which, we venture to say, Canadian free trade newspapers will not voluntarily lay before their readers. The Telegraph, after expatiating upon the very low price of wheat and barley in the English market, goes on to say:

Seven shillings for a sack of sifted wheat! Of course at such a figure there is no question about profit. The hapless farmer grows such a parcel at a dead loss all round of about £1 per acre, even if he harvested five quarters to the acre. It did not pay him to grow wheat at last year's returns, and if he had his land for nothing, a sovereign a quarter would not recoup him for his outgoings and his labor. In simple words, wheat has come to spell ruin to the British cultivator, who sees himself producing the staff of life at quotations which do not leave him a crust to nibble for himself. He is undersold by the cheap crops of Russia, India, America and the Argentine Republic, the last of which is perhaps the only competitor which, gold being at such a premium there, can still afford to go on sending grain into such a market. Cannot he (the dweller in towns) understand that it makes much difference to himself whether money goes out of England to buy foreign wheat or stays in the country to purchase it here. In the latter and happier case the cash circulates in a manner promoting general prosperity. In the former case it is as gold thrown into the sea as far as the home country is concerned. The point has long ago been passed when the artisan got his loaf cheaper because the farmer was underpaid.

The English journalist is indignant at the Government being apparently blind to this unhappy state of things, and taking no measures to improve in some way the position of the farmer, who is struggling under conditions so cruelly adverse to his interests. He goes on to say:

Have we then some remedy ready which will cure this perpetual sinking in the price of wheat. Frankly none. Those who best understand the subject dogmatise least about it; but what we do say is that the Legislature and the Government commanding it are bound to give the problem their most earnest consideration. Instead of doing this they have frittered the national time away over the demands of Home Rulers who would not care if all England starved to-morrow. And when they are not busy with this and other fads they have been rather laying burdens upon the land than trying to lighten its load. The land grievances in England are ten times greater than any real grievance in Ireland, but has been borne with a thousand-fold more patience. The time, however, is come when the farmers of England must and will be heard unless they are to be ground down into the dust which they cultivate by the wheels of an inexorable system and the added weight of Radical finance.

Who would think that this piteous moan and this strong and bitter protest was made by a free trade journal in a free trade country and directed against the "inexorable system" of free trade? It seems to us that it is rather the want of courage than the want of knowledge that prevents the Telegraph from pointing out the remedy which it indicates very clearly in more than one place in the passages we have quoted. But, as Sir John Macdonald told some English public men with whom he conversed in London, "free trade has become a superstition in England," and, as all thinking men know, superstitions are intolerant and cruel. If the Telegraph came out, as it evidently seems inclined to do, in favor of protection to the British farmer, a hue and cry would be raised against it, it would lose its prestige as a journal and it would have to fight its way back to its present position in the face of a thousand adverse influences. The struggle would be a severe one from every point of view, and it is not surprising that the Telegraph shrinks from engaging in it. But it is very clear from its own showing that the contest cannot be far off. The "inexorable system" must cease to be inexorable or British agriculture must calculate upon facing ruin.

RUSSIAN HOSPITALITY.

So much has been heard about the cruel way in which Jews are treated in Russia and the indignities to which men and women of that ancient race, of high standing, are obliged to submit at the hands of Russian officials that it is a relief to find that one Jewish gentleman, when he visited Russia, had nothing to complain of. Rabbi Krauskopf, of Philadelphia, went to Russia in June last for the express purpose of inquiring into the condition of his co-religionists in that country, and to see if something could not be done to ameliorate their condition without their being compelled to emigrate to America or anywhere else. In a letter to his friends at home Dr. Krauskopf in a pleasant and lively way relates his experience of Russian officials from the highest to the lowest. When he landed in Russia he fully expected to be refused permission to reside in it for even a day. The news of his coming and of his errand had preceded him, and he feared that as soon as the customs official heard his name he would be told, not too politely, that he could not land in Russia. He was, however, agreeably surprised when the official after making a single inquiry sealed his passport and he was at liberty to go where he pleased. His baggage had been carefully examined and the books that were in it wisely scanned by an official who very likely did not understand a word that he saw, and everything was pronounced O. K. by its equivalent in Russian. This is how the Rabbi describes his interview with the Russian official:

He addressed me in the Russian language, which I guessed to be an enquiry after my name, and guessed right. He next honored me with a look from top to bottom and from bottom to top, and, not wishing to seem wanting in courtesy, I returned the compliment. Fortunately for both of us, as neither of us was very tall, it took neither of us long. I could scarcely trust my eyes when, without another question, he pressed a seal on my passport and handed it to me, which I quickly took from him with a sincerely meant "Thank you," and as quickly pounced into an omnibus of the Hotel d'Europe which stood waiting. Inwardly I rejoiced not a little over this first triumph.

During his three days' residence in St. Petersburg he was not interfered with in any way by the authorities. He was as free to come and go as any resident of the city of any race or any religion.

Dr. Krauskopf through the intervention of the United States Minister obtained an interview with the General Procurator and the Finance Minister. He was treated with the greatest courtesy and consideration, and was promised assistance in carrying out his scheme, which was to settle destitute Jews on land in Russia. In a memorial addressed to the Minister of Finance, he asked the Government for a grant of "arable and cultivatable land" sufficient for his purpose. The request has not yet been granted, but the Rabbi since his return to Philadelphia has received word from the United States ambassador that "encouraging progress has been made toward the plan of colonizing the Jews in Russia, and that the Russian Government had officially asked him to furnish it with the details of his investigating tour." From this we are led to conclude that the Russian is not so black as he has been painted by some American travellers. Dr. Krauskopf at any rate is evidently inclined to praise the bridge that carried him over.

A PESSIMIST.

The labor question is at present engaging the attention of some of the world's deepest thinkers and greatest philanthropists. There are some who believe that the situation is serious, but that the different classes will gradually and without any ruinous disturbance find what are the best relations and adapt themselves to them. Matters, they believe, in the field of labor will in time right themselves, and any attempt to adjust them hastily and artificially will be likely to do more harm than good.

There are others, however, who do not take this optimistic view, and who do not believe in this laissez faire policy. They predict that society will be terribly convulsed in the near future and declare that it should prepare itself for the shock. Among these is Professor H. Von Holst, who is described as an eminent historian now connected with the University of Chicago. He says in an article in The Journal of Political Economy, "I have become convinced that we are fast drifting into a more appalling crisis even than the Civil War," and then goes on to say:

At present nothing less than the preservation of society is at issue. Nine hundred and ninety-nine out of a thousand will not only deem this assertion extravagant, but dismiss it at once as a self-evident absurdity. Still it is as demonstrable a fact as any proposition of Euclid. If the vital principle is extinguished death ensues. Will this assertion be controverted? The extinction of the vital principle of society, however, is the task organic labor is systematically working at, and a large majority of people are more or less winking at it from lack of discernment, from fuddled sentimentalism, from self-absorbed indolence or from moral nervousness.

The learned Professor goes on to try to convince his readers that society is living above a volcano which may at any moment burst and do incalculable destruction. It is evident that he has lost his faith in human nature and in the common sense of mankind. It is hardly to be expected that organized labor will go to work to deliberately produce a state of things in which there will be no reason for its existence. Destroy civilization, deprive law of its power to protect property, make economy and thrift a crime, and what use will there be for organized labor? What is there for organized labor to do among the savages of Central Africa? It is evident that if organized labor should act in the way that Professor Von Holst describes, it would commit suicide in the most wilful and deliberate manner possible. If the leaders of organized labor do not see this clearly they must be as blind as bats.

CANADIAN QUARANTINE.

The American Public Health Association held its meeting in Montreal a week or two ago. The subject of quarantine was naturally one of the topics of discussion. It seems that the United States members had doubts about the efficiency of the quarantine arrangements at Grosse Isle. They therefore eagerly accepted an invitation to examine them. The visitors were taken over the buildings and had every part and process of the work fully explained by the medical officer of the station, Dr. Montizambert, who answered all inquiries and satisfied those present that the work of the station was thoroughly and efficiently performed. At the meeting held after the visit had been made every speaker approved of what they had seen at Grosse Isle, the work that is being done there and the methods adopted to prevent dangerous diseases from being introduced into the Dominion. A prominent United States official declared that they came there to criticize, but they saw nothing to find fault with. This is most satisfactory, and we have no doubt that in time the Pacific Quarantine Station will in all its appointments be as perfect as the one at Grosse Isle.

Home and Abroad.

It is the duty of everyone, whether at home or travelling for pleasure or business, to equip himself with the remedy which will keep up strength and prevent illness, and cure such ills as are liable to come upon all in every day life. THE CITY.

AFTER routine business had been hurriedly disposed of, the members of Sullivan lodge No. 6, A.O.U.W., which met in the Odd Fellows' hall last evening, spent a few hours very socially in songs, recitations, etc.

ALL members of the Y.M.C.A. who are interested in the religious department of the association are invited to meet Secretary Carter in the parlour to-night at 8 o'clock, for the purpose of organizing a Yoke-fellows band.

DURING September donations were received at the W.C.T.U. Rescue Home from Rev. G. Brown, Ontario; Mrs. Spencer, Mrs. Hart and three friends. The home desires work in the line of plain sewing, repairing and darning.

THE cabin passengers on the steamer City of Puebla, which sailed yesterday from San Francisco, are: E. Stanger, C. N. Box, W. Perkins, F. Perkins, Charles Booh, F. A. Seaman, W. S. Killingsworth, Mrs. Cassman, L. S. Mallory and Mrs. Mallory.

FIVE Victoria firms, at least, have forwarded tenders for the new post office and customs building, and as several outside contractors have been figuring on the work it will be seen that there will be no lack of competition. The contract will be awarded from O.tawa.

A YOUNG man at Vancouver has been fined $10 for enclosing a letter with a photograph, which was forwarded under parcel post arrangements. This is another indication of the determination of the P. O. authorities to put an end to this description of fraud on the revenue.

A FARMER named John Sinclair, living at Cadboro bay, was tossed by a bull on Thursday and now lies in a dangerous condition, a bone in his back being broken and his limbs paralyzed from the injuries he received. The bull had already tossed a Chinaman sky high and yesterday tried to gore a boy. The animal has been killed.

POINT ROBERTS salmon fishers are not likely to continue to enjoy the immunity from legal restrictions which heretofore has given them an advantage over the Canadian fishermen and has been productive of no little injury to the fishery. The Minister of Marine and Fisheries having had his attention called to the matter has been in correspondence with the authorities of the State of Washington with the result that orders are being taken to apply desirable restrictions to Point Roberts fishery.

THE police are gathering in a regular harvest every day now of Indians either drunk or in possession of intoxicants, with an occasional supply of liquor thrown in. Last evening several Indians with whiskey in their possession were run in, and a Chinaman who called himself a Siwash was arrested for supplying. Later on Constable Carson, while on the still hunt among the cabins off Store street, came on a drunken Indian named Churk trying to thump a companion, but too overpowered to do any harm, while an old klootch danced around them squaking like a hen. Churk was promptly locked up.

A MEETING of the Liberal Conservative Association has been called for this evening at 8 o'clock in the Adelphi hall, at which all Conservatives should attend, as most important business, viz., the election of officers for the ensuing year and the adoption of a constitution, will be transacted. The membership of the association is already very large, and its success fully assured. Any Conservatives who have not yet registered their names will have an opportunity of doing so at this meeting. The office on Government street, next to the Colonist office, will also be kept open to day from 9:30 a.m. to 9:30 p.m. for the convenience of those who are unable to attend the meeting.

YESTERDAY afternoon in the Provincial court a man named Robbins was charged by John Black, constable of Lake district, with shooting at a hen pheasant, trespassing on Black's land and assaulting him in the discharge of his duty. F. Sherbourne, Robbins' companion, was charged with trespass. There was a conflict of testimony as to the sex of the pheasant, Black saying it was a hen, while Robbins and Sherbourne maintained it was a cock. As the bird could not be subpoenaed, the charge was dismissed. The case against Sherbourne was dismissed, as it was shown he had retired from Black's land when notified. The other charges against Robbins were withdrawn, owing to conflicting evidence. Mr. Lindley Crease appeared for the defence.

LINCOLN J. CARTER'S "Fast Mail" held the boards at The Victoria last night, and was well received. The play is full of scenic effects, the plot being framed so as to bring in a fast mail train, a fast Mississippi steamer explosion and other incidents. Even the scenery partakes of the lightning character, for from the engine room of the "Seattle steamer Rosalie" is seen the "distant moonlight shore of Arkansas," and according to the play bill an E. & N. train gathers up the "United States mails" while going at forty miles an hour. The acting is really very good, and the play enjoyable. As Walter West, Mr. Manley was very acceptable, and Sleuth (Mr. Frank Weed) and Belvey Ann caused plenty of laughter by their mirth provoking acting. The others in the cast including Mary Martin (Miss Edith Arnold) took their parts well, and altogether the play went off very well. One great merit is the rapid scene shifting which is appreciated by the audience.

COMPLAINT is made by residents of Quebec street of the presence in that locality of vagrants who have made attempts to break into some of the houses and have shown a disposition to molest passers-by. One of the vags, who was chased a couple of nights ago by a gentleman who found him about his premises, is described as a tall man about 27 years old, dressed in brown.

THERE was a large congregation at the harvest home service held in St. Saviour's church, Victoria West, last evening. The services were conducted by His Lordship Bishop Perrin, assisted by Rev. Canon Beaulieu and Rev. Canon Paddon, and were throughout very interesting. Special music was provided, while the church was prettily decorated with flowers and fruits. Harvest festival services were also held at Metochin hall last evening.

NEXT week the steamer Thistle will carry to Vancouver the first shipment of ice made in this city by the new cold storage and ice company. The consignment is perfect in color, and the Victoria ice is sure to be in strong demand. That which is to be shipped to Vancouver will be for consumption there, it being principally for packing fish brought from the North. The company's cold storage rooms are already proving very beneficial to local dealers in meats and fruit, and many of the departments are now filled with perishable goods.

At the Sir Wm. Wallace Society last night, Mr. Tait was the lecturer, on "The Scots in Canada." The lecturer showed that Scottish soldiers did great work in connection with the establishment of British possessions in North America, and pointed out the great work accomplished for Canada by Scottish explorers. He held that the Scottish people had had a most extraordinary influence upon the character of the national life of Canada. At the conclusion the Rev. Dr. Campbell proposed a hearty vote of thanks to the lecturer which was passed. The Rev. Mr. Murison will deliver the next lecture.

AN Indian belonging to the crew of the sealing schooner Ainoka, arrived in from the Straits yesterday morning with a note from the captain for Capt. Grant, the owner of the Ainoka. It states that the schooner has been becalmed in the Straits since Monday last. On several occasions she got well up the Straits, but each time drifted back with the tide, and is now at Port San Juan. She has a catch of 1,657 skins, obtained in the Sea, giving her a total of 2,157. No other vessels except the Beatrice were mentioned in the note and she was spoken by the Ainoka just as the latter was leaving the Sea. The Beatrice then had 1,200 odd skins.

SHOULD the sanitary officer chance to drop in at the city lockup almost any of these fine evenings he will be able to establish a case of overcrowding against the city with evidence against which there can be no defence. Since the Indians came home from the sealing, a full house has been the rule, and four in a cell is no uncommon occurrence, despite the provisions of the health by-law in such cases made and provided. Yesterday no less than $165 was collected in fines from whiskey cases alone—drunks, possession and supplying. The majority of the offenders were Indians, and Chief Sheppard therefore reaped quite a neat harvest in interpreting fees, as he receives $1 in each and every case. Sidney Hooper was convicted of having used insulting language and was fined $10 and costs.

A DISTINGUISHED visitor to Victoria is Hon. Sir Charles Fremantle, K.C.B., who with Lady Fremantle and Miss Fremantle arrived from England yesterday on a pleasure trip round the world. Until recently Sir Charles was deputy master of the royal mint, a position he held for twenty-five years. He is one of the leading authorities on monetary questions and was a delegate to the Paris money conference in 1881, and to the Brussels conference in 1892. Sir Charles is a mono metalist himself and ascribes Canada's freedom from the silver troubles to her sound currency system. While in the Orient he will visit his brother, Admiral Fremantle, who commands the Chinese squadron, and will return by way of Hongkong and Ceylon. The party are staying at the Dallas, awaiting the arrival of the Empress. Sir Charles will visit Admiral Sphenon on the Royal Arthur to-day.

FIRE AT SAN JUAN.

Extensive Poultry Yards and Stock Ranch Destroyed.

PORT TOWNSEND, Wn., Oct. 12.—W. R. Rogers came to town yesterday from his home on San Juan Island, bringing news of an extensive fire on last Saturday which consumed his new dwelling and many out-houses and other valuable property. There was no insurance. It will be remembered that Rogers left Townsend for the island about a year ago and established at what is known as English camp extensive poultry yards and a blooded stock ranch, the largest in the state. He was manager of a company capitalized in Ohio. The farm is now taken care of and Rogers will return in the spring and rebuild.

The Central Office on Government street, next to the Colonist, will be open all day to-day and on Monday from 9:30 a.m. to 10 p.m., for the registration of voters for the elections.

The "Moonlighters" Score a Win—McVie Takes the Provincial Quotting Championship

There will be a big practice game of Rugby football this afternoon on Beacon Hill, the teams being picked by the captain and vice-captain and a good game being looked forward to. As this is the last Saturday practice all members should make a point of turning out, so that the committee may have no difficulty in picking the team to play against the Navy next Saturday. The match card, which includes a number of good matches, will be published next week in the COLONIST. During the progress of the game to-day a band will play at the Hill.

The Westminster people have not yet come to any decision as to where the final in the senior championship series shall be played off.

THE WHEEL.

THE WESTMINSTER RACES

NEW WESTMINSTER, Oct. 12.—(Special)—In the one mile open at Westminster yesterday, the Deemings and Lee were scratched. During this race James and Albert played their old trick, pocketing Lee, and as a consequence, though the Portland rider came in third, he was given second place. A Deeming won.

In the three mile handicap, Lee and J. Deeming started from scratch, with Clabor, Barker and Franklin, of Vancouver, in the field. Lee trailed Deeming the entire distance, and was making a pretty race at the finish when his wheel ran into a hole, twisting up the machine and throwing the rider heavily. Deeming took the race.

HERE AND THERE.

The principal part of yesterday at Westminster was taken up with the gymkhana games which furnished hilarious amusement for the spectators. Robert J. beat Patchon in three straight heats at Sioux City yesterday.

AN EXPRESSION OF ESTEEM.

The Officers of the Lands and Works Department Present Their Retiring Chief With a Souvenir of Their Regard.

The officers of the Provincial Lands and Works department in view of the retirement of Hon. F. G. Vernon from the office of Chief Commissioner, yesterday waited upon that honorable gentleman in a body to express to him their regret at the severance of his relations with the department. Their feelings were voiced in the address which accompanied a pretty souvenir in the form of a silver cigar case. This had the recipient's monogram upon one side, and a suitable inscription on the reverse. The presentation was made by Deputy Commissioner V. S. Gore on behalf of all the officers of the department, and Hon. Mr. Vernon replying spoke most feelingly of the pleasant days and friendly associations which by his retirement are now at an end. The address, which bore the signatures of all the officers of the department, was as follows:

VICTORIA, B. C., Oct. 8, 1891.

To the Honorable Forbes George Vernon, Chief Commissioner of Lands and Works:

DEAR SIR:—Your officers of the Lands and Works department desire to express their regret at your resignation as a member of the Cabinet, and more particularly as the head of their department. During the many years that you have been our Chief you have invariably commanded our utmost respect and esteem, not only on account of your courtesy to us at all times, but also because of your large knowledge of departmental matters and of the wise and judicious manner in which your decisions on matters of importance have been given.

In you we feel that we are losing a good friend and your colleagues in the Cabinet a most able coadjutor. With the accompanying slight token of our regard, we wish you every happiness in your future career, and subscribe ourselves, Yours sincerely,

BUSINESS SITUATION.

Bradstreet's and Dun's Trade Reviews for the Week—Enlarged Distribution.

Retarding Influences Still at Work—The Failures and Liabilities as Reported.

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—Bradstreet's tomorrow will say: An accentuation of favorable features is revealed in the telegraphed reports to Bradstreet's this week. While advances as to the most marked improvement come from the West and South, there are some encouraging features also reported from the East, and the net result of the week's business has been progress in the direction of enlarged distribution. Cereals have not changed on the week. A heavy cutting of the prices of refined sugar is reported throughout the West owing to the efforts of grocers to dispose of the large stocks carried by them in anticipation of tariff changes. The stock market is very dull and exhibits a partial recovery from the depression created by fears of an outflow of specie. The bank clearings at 72 cities for the week ending Thursday aggregate $927,428,877, a decrease from last week of 7.5 per cent., but an increase of 3 per cent. over the same week last year, although 21.7 per cent. smaller than this week two years ago. Export trade is active at San Francisco and a number of vessels are being chartered for wheat shipments. Trade is very active in Canada, though a slackening in demand is noted from September activity.

R. G. Dan will say to-morrow: Business is still waiting for the development of retail trade. There is a little better demand in some industries, but not so good in others. Wholesale dealers in nearly all branches are halting, because retail business does not yet show what it is to be. Lower prices for the great farm staples and lower wages in some establishments, hinder purchases for consumption, while political interest and uncertainty have some retarding influence. The government crop reports are not greatly trusted, and men calmly reckon that if the government report indicates over 400,000,000 bushels of wheat the crop must be over 500,000,000 bushels, and in consequence the price is slightly lower. The futures for the week ending October 7 show liabilities of $1,714,276, of which $805,885 are of manufacturing and $908,391 of trading concerns. The failures for the week have been 231 in the United States against 393 last year, and 43 in Canada against 42 last year.

AFFAIRS IN DOMINICA.

The Population Discontented on Account of Existing Poverty.

LONDON, Oct. 12.—The report of Sir Robert Hamilton, the commissioner sent to inquire into the affairs of the island of Dominica, W. I., says that the population of the island, estimated at 30,000 persons, is discontented on account of the existing poverty which is said to be due to defective administration. The report says that the poorer classes are too heavily taxed and suggests among a number of economic and administrative reforms that the island be withdrawn from the Leeward islands federation and placed under the control of a lieutenant-governor. The report concludes that Dominica has a great future before it if these reforms are carried out.

AN IMPORTANT INCIDENT AT A COUNTRY AUCTION SALE.

Quite recently a country store stock was sold off by auction in lots to suit purchasers. The sale, which had been well advertised by circulars distributed throughout the country, drew a large crowd of sturdy farmers and their good wives; the bidding was fast and spirited, and good prices were realized for all useful and staple goods.

Amongst the vast variety of articles put up for sale were two lots of package dyes for household dyeing. The auctioneer announced that he would first dispose of the "Diamond Dyes," goods that every farmer and farmer's wife knew well and favorably. The women, being most interested in these goods, did the bidding, and in ten minutes time, some six gross of the "Diamond Dyes" were sold to anxious buyers.

The other dyes were then brought forward, and introduced by some oriental name. Said the Auctioneer: "I give you the name of these dyes, but I know little about their manufacture or qualities; come, give me a bid, any price."

There was no response—not a bid to encourage the auctioneer's heart. Seeing that time was being lost, and anxious to get rid of these dyes at any price, the auctioneer, in a joking way, said: "You surely want your garden fences and barns painted; if these dyes are not good enough to color your dresses, shawls, jackets, coats, silks and ribbons, they will surely do for common wood painting."

The idea was a novel one—it was a revelation—and seemed to meet with the favor of a few, and for a small price, the entire stock of worthless dyes designated by a high sounding name, was sold to one farmer, who was heartily laughed at.

There is a most important moral to be deduced from the results of the auction sale just referred to. The moral taught is, that poor and worthless dyes, wherever sold, are dear at any price—even when used for common fence painting.

The "Diamond Dyes" are well known, popular and always reliable; they sell everywhere and under all circumstances, and give wonderful results in restoring to beauty and usefulness old and faded articles of wearing apparel. "Diamond Dyes" save many dollars each year in every farmer's home.

INTERSTATE FAIR.

Sunday Fair Employees' Day—Mardi Gras Night—To Be Closed October 20.

TACOMA, Oct. 12.—Sunday will be fair employees' day, and a special arrangement has been made by the fair management which insures an immense crowd for that day. To see all the attractions on the grounds costs $2 at admission rates. To see all but two of the Midway features and be admitted to the grounds will cost but 50 cents on fair employees' day. Among the features included in this arrangement are the streets of Cairo, the mirror maze, palace of illusions, Platan's daughter, Wild West show, spirit bridge, Edward's menagerie, big tree, Illinois farm, dime museum, prize cattle and panoramas.

Great interest is being taken in Mardi Gras night on Monday next. The ball will be in machinery hall, out of which most of the exhibits will be taken. Society is delighted over the prospect of dancing to Casassa's band.

The fair trustees have decided to continue the fair until October 20, and close on that day, which will be a special Tacoma day. Excursions will be run from all parts of the Northwest to this city. The Northern Pacific has made a $10 round trip from Walla Walla, a $3.50 rate from Ellensburg, and a $3.50 rate from Portland. Excursions will also be run on that day from Victoria, Vancouver, Whatcom, Port Townsend, Seattle and Olympia. It will be the greatest day of the fair. All passes and season tickets will be suspended for that day.

ELECTRIC LIGHTING.

TO THE EDITOR:—In explanation, and for the information of "Ratepayer," who has several grievances to dispose of, kindly allow me space to make clear, if not altogether satisfactory, what he has pointed to as peculiar, respecting the lighting of our streets. Two nights last week the James Bay lights were off in consequence of a break down in the lighting machinery. Then concerning the operation of the light in the outer sections when it is not needed, and would seem to be in competition with the moon, I would explain that while in the central portion of the city so many openings in the streets exist, necessary for sewer extension, it is the desire of the street lighting committee to furnish every reasonable protection by maintaining the light nightly, except when the moon is about its full, well to the northward, and in a clear sky. Inasmuch, however, as the lamps in the centre of the city are on the same circuits as those outside, it is not convenient to light one section without the other. R. B. McMICKING.

THE BOYS' BRIGADE.

TO THE EDITOR:—I am delighted to learn by reading Captain Teague's letter of to-day in your valuable paper that the last Victoria Company Boys' Brigade is not defunct, and sincerely congratulate the captain on its flourishing condition.

The statement in my letter of yesterday that the company was in existence was based on the regular report from headquarters, and my conjecture that it had ceased to exist was based on the following facts: Two Victoria clergymen are now in correspondence with the Wellington company about headquarters, supplies, etc. These gentlemen, I venture to say, would have personally interviewed Captain Teague had they known of the existence of his company. Further, when I inquired about this company in the house of a prominent family in Victoria it was expressed as an opinion that it had ceased to exist.

The captain is too modest. Let him take the bushel off his light. He is to be congratulated on having a flourishing company a year old, but not on having such a company so little heard of. I think he should set about battalion organization at once. It seems to me that the requisite number of companies could be reached in a week or two.

With reference to the other point, let me say I shall be glad to learn of the success of the Boys' Brigade in any connection, but experience seems to be imperative. The captain's argument here is not strong. Just fancy going to the founder of any institution to inquire as to its practical working.

I hope Captain Teague will soon be, as he deserves to be, the secretary of a battalion, in which capacity he will receive my cordial support.

MRS. FRANK LESLIE IN A LIGHTER VEIN THAN USUAL.

She Gossips About the Funny Things She Saw While on Her Usual Summer Vacation in Europe—A Dog Paradise and a Horse Inferno.

[Copyright, 1894, by American Press Association.]

IT HAS been my invariable and unvarying custom of late years to spend my summers in Europe. All the joys of sauntering through shops and gazing at bargains, which less hardworked women can spread over an entire year are in my case crowded into two brief months, and possibly the briefness of my holiday so intensifies my powers of observation that I take more notes in the two months aforesaid of the places where I idle cheerily than others collect in the course of the whole year. Haste invariably concentrates one's keener perceptions unless it makes one lose one's head utterly, and, happily for myself, I do not come under the latter category. At one time the Mecca of Americans was Paris. Thither did our country people flock in large numbers, and therein did they expend large sums under the lavish regime of the second empire. But Paris is no longer what it used to be. Prices have gone up, and pleasures have departed, and we are used to the republican form of government at home, and we like an entire change when we go abroad, so the inquiring tourists of these latter days set sail in the spring-time and direct themselves straight toward London.

London has a peculiar and decided attraction of its own. When the train lumbers solemnly over the roofs of suburban houses and our nostrils are greeted by the first whiff of that smoky atmosphere so characteristic of London air, the average American feels a distinct thrill of pleasure. And when our "boxes" (no one but elephants have trunks in England) are piled in an insecure fashion on top of a "growler" (the modern English for a four wheeled cab) and we start on our way to a hotel, where we know we will be uncomfortable and pay very dearly for that privilege, then we feel that we are in the seventh heaven of delight, for London in the season is a very charming place.

What strikes one very forcibly is the splendid audacity of the inhabitants. No London hostess ever dreams in her hospitable intents that the weather may be unpropitious. When the rain is raining every day in that hard and persistent manner so characteristic of the English climate, the blooming English matrons will settle down to their writing tables and launch invitations to a garden party with a coolness that is born partly of their belief in their own good luck and partly of implicit confidence in the clerk of the weather. Certainly the London garden parties are most charming functions, the brilliant toilets, the multicolored parasols and flower decked headgear of the women showing most picturesquely against the vivid green of the turf and the darker verdure of the fine old trees that adorn so many gardens, even in the heart of the great city, for it must be admitted that the weather is often considerate and refrains from rain for awhile to enable the garden festivity to pass off with eclat. The garden party is not a function that has much chance of being acclimated in Paris, however. The conservative French will have none of it. A Frenchwoman likes to show her artistically artificial self under the subdued glow of candle light. A French hostess who owned a superb garden decided on adopting the English fashion and sent forth many convocations to afternoon tea and music in the open air, but all the French female contingent, with calm decision, refused to recall her invitations and replace her afternoon by an evening party, when the garden was hung with Venetian lanterns, and the light was most exquisitely subdued and very becoming to the French complexions.

Anglo-Saxon women, however, brave the clear light of day with perfect equanimity, and it must be said that the lilies and roses of English skins can often face the sunlight with impunity. Another peculiarity of the London season, which is caused by all its dissipation being concentrated into a little less than three short months, is that you never have time to enjoy anything properly. You float from a lunch party, from which you have to rush at an unseasonably hour, so soon as you rise from table, to go to an afternoon tea, say, in Kensington, the other end of London, from your lunch party. You then proceed to drive, as it seems to yourself, for ages. If you are in a hurry, you are certain to be blocked on Piccadilly and waste idle moments contemplating the carriage in front of you and admiring the force and directness of oburgation of which the English language is capable when used by drivers. You reach your destination, you meet some particularly interesting people, you are having an extremely pleasant time, when the dismal thought strikes you that you have made a positive promise to meet some friends at another reception in a diametrically opposite direction, so you drive for more untold ages and reach your destination at a fiendishly late hour, and by direct count compute that you have spent two-thirds of the afternoon in trying to get from place to place. Many people make sage resolutions to go but to one place in an afternoon, but I have yet to know of any one who has adhered to that virtuous resolve. Every one in London is like poor Joe—they are eternally "moving on"—and although we mourn loudly over the necessity and the inevitable fatigue we never seem inclined to relinquish that habit.

But, alas! the season in London is crowded, fatiguing, delightful and brief, and there comes inevitably one fine morning when the American who has been treated with immense and charming hospitality, Mr. Ward McAllister to the contrary notwithstanding, realizes that the season is drawing to its close.

There are still things ahead, it is true, but one is desperately tired, and the Goodwood races are approaching, which rings the knell of the London gayety. Besides one's wardrobe is in a state of desperate dilapidation. So the enterprising tourist sits gloomily and gazes at the wreck of her finery and decides that Paris is the next move, for there, like a ship in the drydock, she can be quiet and refitted. No sooner said than done. Seven hours by rail, an hour by sea on that silver streak, the crossing of which General Sheridan defined as involving a certainty of purgatory and a chance of—well, never mind—and we steam into the city known as the paradise of dogs and the inferno of horses. Paris and Constantinople are the two cities that are supposed to possess the maximum of the canine population. Certainly they are spoiled and petted in Paris, and every one—the porter who unloads your luggage, the cabman that transports it, the concierge that takes in your letters and even the market woman who sells fruit on a little barrow—every one you meet has a dog at his or her heels. And they are sociable quadrupeds, too, and though they are usually undisguised and unmitigated mongrels neither they nor their owners seem aware of the fact.

For a very amusing expedition we would recommend our readers to go to one of the three canine tailors in Paris—two on the Palais Royal and one in a side street—where all sorts of dog-gish attire is put up for sale. These, of course, are for dogs of high degree, and the prices were quite as great in proportion as Worth would charge for his swellest creations. There was displayed to us a traveling ulster in white wool for "mountain wear," with a large white hood, under which the pointed nose and bright eyes of a black and tan appeared with monastic gravity of aspect. Here was a waterproof coat of dark blue buttoned along the spine and with the four legs incased in the worsted stocking, finished by tiny waterproof shoes. This was for the dog to wear in the wet. An extremely swell coat was in dark red velvet edged with a tiny border of white fur and with initials and coronet in gold embroidered on the left side.

Another simple traveling coat was in plain dark cloth, closed with a leather strap, and the strap was finished by a small handle, like a basket, so that your pet could be carried as if he were a bundle of shawls, which would certainly be a grave affront to his dignity. This coat had a tiny outside pocket, presumably for a handkerchief. Then there were harnesses of all kinds, with a leading string to match. One particularly, which was charming, was in pale pink leather, studded with gold, with a bunch of artificial violets as an appropriate finish. Then there were hoods to keep the sensitive ears of the canine darling from cold when he drove out. They were very elegant hoods, dark blue lined with red being particularly fetching. Attached to this and detachable at will was a fashionably undulated coachman's cape in the same colors. When the cape was on, the forlorn dog looked very like a monkey on a hand organ and seemed keenly sensitive to the absurdity of his own appearance. Then there were funny little nightshirts for the favored pets that share their owner's couch made of the finest cambric, embroidered with dark red and with a lace frill around the throat, or for traveling in red flannel. In this manner one can amoint long haired dogs for the improvement of their coats without soiling my lady's embroidered sheets. Some of the nightgowns have nightcaps attached in case the dog's ears need treatment.

The fashionable dog of Paris, the handsome and shaggy French poodle, is really a very difficult animal to keep in order. If he is not neatly clipped every month, he is a very shabby creature, and his washing is a matter of much time and great care. Still in Paris demand creates supply, and every morning in winter a melancholy, monotonous cry may be heard proceeding up and down the principal streets of Paris: "Clip your dogs! Here is the clipper!"

In summer the sight is more picturesque. The dog washer and dog clipper installs himself with majesty on the banks of the Seine. Thither come his regular customers with their respective dogs to have them put in good order. Prices of course vary. A short haired dog can be washed for the modest sum of 3 cents, soap and towel extra, which the owner is at liberty to provide. Poodles, on the other hand, if artistically clipped, washed and combed, cost as much as 30 cents for the entire operation, but after which they emerge visions of fluffy and curled loveliness. It is a picturesque sight, if you are sailing up the Seine, to watch the proceedings of the dog washers, with the buckets wherewith they souse their hapless victims neatly ranged before them. They are painted dark green, these buckets, with their owner's profession in large yellow letters upon them. They are marked alternately "washer" or "clipper," and on warm summer afternoons all sorts and conditions of dogs sport around them—perky water spaniels and Newfoundlanders, who, after their bath, swim vigorously in quest of sticks; wretched mongrels, who know what awaits them and flee madly, to the great enjoyment of every one but the owner and the washer, who have to catch them, while a series of howls come from a shed in the background, where the completed dogs are predicting suffering to unwashed comrades, thus causing a chorus of lamentations—and the neigh

Paine's Celery Compound, the Great Medicine that has Rescued Thousands in the Past, Cures Mrs. Vince.

MRS. M. J. VINCE, BARRIE, ONT.

From day to day the people of Canada loudly praise the marvellous powers of Paine's Celery Compound. Physicians know well that there is but one medicine in the world that can grapple with Sciatica, Rheumatism, and all the troubles that lead to these dreadful diseases.

Hundreds have been cured by nature's great nerve medicine, Paine's Celery Compound, after having been discharged from hospitals as incurable. We can show the people the records of these cures, and the cured ones are well known in their several districts. No other medicine can show such evidence, simply because other medicines have not the curing virtues needed by the suffering and afflicted.

If you suffer, dear reader, or have suffering relatives and friends, we would utter a few words of warning. Do not be talked into mixtures of pills that will only prolong your months of agony and suffering. Insist upon getting Paine's Celery Compound; with it, you are sure to banish your pains and troubles.

Hundreds of people in Barrie, Ont., know of Mrs. M. J. Vince, and her happy release from suffering through the use of Paine's Celery Compound.

The Rev. Mr. McGrath, Episcopal Minister of Barrie, vouches for the lady's statements.

Mrs. Vince writes as follows:—

"I am happy to say that I have taken Paine's Celery Compound with great results. I had Sciatica so badly that I could not turn in bed, or walk without help; and for a period of three weeks, was helplessly laid up and suffered pain that at times was unbearable.

"I tried many medicines, but all in vain. I was afterwards recommended to try Paine's Celery Compound. I used six bottles and am entirely cured, and enjoy good health. I take great pleasure in recommending the valuable medicine that cured me."

boring bridges are thronged with spectators who divide their attention between their canine friends and the ubiquitous fisherman, whose sits day after day whipping the turbid waters of the Seine in quest of some fish who would be silly enough to come up that highway of traffic for the special purpose of being caught in the midst of the roar of ferryboats and the uproar of dogs. The French are supposed to be an excitable race, but when they fish in the Seine their excitability subsides into a placidity of patience worthy of a more successful cause. However, hope springs eternal in the human breast, and the fishless fisherman, like the gambler, always hopes for better luck next time and invariably returns cheerfully to the bank, where he never catches anything—but a cold.

A Note Pad.

A note pad consists simply of a nice pad of writing paper, preferably octavo in size, mounted between two silken covered pasteboards a trifle larger. Each board is covered on both sides with flowered silk, and both are fastened at the top by two or three ribbon straps to allow for the thickness of the pad that is to be laid between. The pad is kept in place by two straps of ribbon passing over its back board and terminating at the sides of the silk covered cover on which it rests. It can thus be slipped out and a new one put in when needed. The front of the note pad is ornamented with a large bow of ribbon, and a slender pencil with an ivory ball tip is tied by a long silken cord to the upper right hand side of the cover.

KATE CHASE.

A Wonderful Conqueror.
No disease is more common among the people than scrofula. Handed down from generation to generation, it is found in nearly every family, in some form. It may make its appearance in dreadful running sores, in swellings in the neck or groin, or in eruptions of varied forms. Attacking the mucous membrane it may be known as catarrh, or develop in the lungs it may be, and often is, the prime cause of consumption.

In whatever form scrofula may manifest itself, Hood's Sarsaparilla is its inveterate foe and conqueror. This medicine has such powerful alternative and vitalizing effects upon the blood that every trace of impurity is expelled, and the blood is made rich, pure and healthy.

No wonder we have nearly cleared out the "Large Stock" of Japanese Rugs; when you No the price you will buy a rug. Weller Bros.
